

Creating and Sustaining Communities of Choice: Greening Northeast Ohio's Neighborhoods

Wednesday, February 6, 2008 • 4:00–6:00 pm
 Levin College of Urban Affairs • Cleveland State University
 Glickman-Miller Hall, Atrium • 1717 Euclid Avenue

Presented in partnership with The Cleveland Foundation.
 Free and open to the public. Registration requested at <http://urban.csuohio.edu/forum> or by calling 216.523.7330

Our Place in the Urban Age

The Levin College of Urban Affairs 30th Anniversary Forum Series

Thank you to our 30th Anniversary Forum Sponsors

Join us as we continue to explore strategies for creating and sustaining communities of choice.

- Frank Jackson, Mayor, City of Cleveland, will talk about the many ways in which the city is “going green.”
- Tom Hicks, Vice President, Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED), U.S. Green Building Council, will talk about the new LEED for Neighborhood Development Pilot Project.

The forum will also showcase five Northeast Ohio neighborhood projects that are combining the best practices in urban planning, environmentally sound design and construction, and community health in a comprehensive approach to greener neighborhoods:

- Tremont Pointe, an Enterprise Green Community, HOPE VI public housing redevelopment project.
- The East College Street project in Oberlin*
- St. Luke's Neighborhood Redevelopment, Cleveland*
- Flats Eastbank, Cleveland*
- Upper Chester, Cleveland*

*National LEED-ND pilot project

AICP certification maintenance credit has been requested for this event. AICP members, please sign in at the start of the event as proof of your attendance. This program is co-sponsored by the Ohio Planning Conference, Cleveland Section.

4:00-4:15 p.m.	Welcome and Overview <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Edward W. (Ned) Hill, Interim Dean, Levin College of Urban Affairs, CSU • Frank Jackson, Mayor, City of Cleveland
4:15-4:45 p.m.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Tom Hicks, Vice President, LEED, U.S. Green Building Council LEED for Neighborhood Development: Building Green Communities
4:45-5:30 p.m.	Local Panel <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Denise San Antonio Zeman, President and CEO, St. Luke's Foundation, moderator • Naomi Sabel, co-founder, Sustainable Community Associates, Oberlin • Justin Glanville, Project Director, Building Cleveland by Design, ParkWorks (invited) • Kevin Dreyfuss-Wells, Project Manager, City Architecture, LEED Accredited Professional
5:30-6:00 p.m.	Questions and Discussion

photo: Sudhir Kade Raghupathy

About the Series: Our Place in the Urban Age is a year-long series celebrating the 30th anniversary of the Levin College of Urban Affairs. The forum series is exploring the dynamic role of cities in a world transformed by technology, climate change, modern lifestyles and a global economy. What will America's urban centers look like in what some are calling the Urban Age? What economic functions will cities serve, how will the quality of life change, and how will Cleveland and Northeast Ohio adapt?