

Restoring Prosperity, A Strategy for Northeast Ohio

Bruce Katz, Vice President and Director, Metropolitan Policy Program at the Brookings Institution

Tuesday, May 29, 2007 • 2:00–3:30 pm
Levin College of Urban Affairs • Cleveland State University
Glickman-Miller Hall, Atrium • 1717 Euclid Avenue
Free and open to the public. Registration requested at <http://urban.csuohio.edu/forum> or by calling 216.523.7330

About this Forum:

Restoring Prosperity, A Strategy for Northeast Ohio is a public officials roundtable discussion of the policy implications for Northeast Ohio of a new report by the Brookings Institution, Restoring Prosperity: The State Role in Revitalizing America's Older Industrial Cities. The report focuses on America's struggling cities, particularly those in the Northeast and Midwest (Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, and Connecticut).

Agenda:

- 2:00-2:10 pm Welcome and Introduction
• Kathryn W. Hexter, Director, Center for Civic Education
- 2:10-2:25 pm Restoring Prosperity, A Strategy for Northeast Ohio
• Bruce Katz, Vice President and Director,
Metropolitan Policy Program at the Brookings Institution
- 2:25-3:15 pm Northeast Ohio Public Officials Roundtable Discussion
• Moderator: Ned Hill, Professor and Distinguished Scholar of Economic Development,
Levin College of Urban Affairs and Vice President for Economic Development,
Cleveland State University
- 3:15-3:30 pm Audience Q & A

Cleveland State
University
Maxine Goodman Levin
College of Urban Affairs
The Center for Civic Education

Our Place in the Urban Age

The Levin College of Urban Affairs 30th Anniversary Forum Series

SPONSORED BY
Jones Day
Enterprise Community Partners
Cuyahoga County Public Library

About the Series:

Our Place in the Urban Age is a year-long celebration of the 30th anniversary of the Maxine Goodman Levin College of Urban Affairs at Cleveland State University. Through these forums we are exploring the dynamic role of cities in a world transformed by technology, climate change, modern lifestyles, and a global economy. National and local speakers representing various disciplines and perspectives will be addressing four questions:

- What will America's urban centers look like in 15, 25, 50 years?
- What economic functions will they serve?
- How will the quality of life change?
- How will Cleveland and Northeast Ohio adapt?

Where the community gathers to discuss challenges, create opportunities, and celebrate accomplishments.
The Levin College forum, a program of the Center for Civic Education.

CELEBRATING 30 YEARS OF THE LEVIN COLLEGE'S COMMITMENT TO CITIES AND THE ADVANCEMENT OF SCHOLARSHIP.