Course Description:

This is an upper-level undergraduate course designed to explore American urban life through the lens of race, class, and ethnicity, with an emphasis on African-American communities in particular. Through these lenses, we will consider political, societal, and economic issues as they related to urban life.

Many of the topics covered in this course may be controversial, and challenge peoples opinions relative to the material covered in the course. Therefore, do not take differences in opinion personally. Having respect for people having differences in opinion is fundamental to having open educational discourse.

General Education Requirement:

UST 302 meets the criteria for the African-American Experience GenEd 08 requirement and the skill areas of critical thinking and information literacy.

African-American Experience Criteria:

1. This course has a primary focus on the contemporary experience of African-Americans and maintains the perspectives, experiences and/or achievements of African-Americans themselves as central to the course.
2. This course provides students with knowledge of how the field of Urban Affairs studies and analyzes the African-American experience.
3. This course provides students with a theoretical and empirical framework for understanding inequality and the distinguishing aspects of the African-American experience.

Skill Area: Critical Thinking Criteria

1. This course requires that at least 15% of the student's grade in the course is based on an evaluation of critical thinking.
2. This course requires students to attain skills beyond lower-level knowledge, thereby requiring skills that involve the use of content knowledge (e.g. finding information to solve a problem).

Skill Area: Information Literacy Criteria

1. At least 15% of the student's grade in the course is based on an evaluation of information literacy
2. This course requires students to evaluate the accuracy, authority, currency, objectivity, and reliability of information sources.
3. This course requires students to address the ethical and legal uses of information.

Information literacy skills require students to address ethical and legal uses of information. At times you may want to quote, or state directly what an author has said. Remember to set off quotations in quotation marks and to document them according to the APA style. If you derive your paraphrased statement from several authors, use a single pair of parentheses and a series of references separated by colons for example, (Johnson, 1999; Perry, 2004; Smith, 2006). Plagiarism may result in the student receiving a failing grade for the piece of work involved.

Penalties for Plagiarism:

The penalties for plagiarism are found in full in the Student Handbook under Academic Regulations (Policy on Academic Misconduct) at the following link: <http://www.csuohio.edu/studentlife/conduct/acadegres.html>

Writing Center Page on Plagiarism:

If you require additional information regarding plagiarism you may also refer to the Writing Centers page on plagiarism, which can be accessed at the following link: <http://www.csuohio.edu/writingcenter/Plagiarism.html>

Paraphrasing:

Paraphrasing should be used to support your thinking and should form the bulk of your evidence. A paraphrase is a restatement of the author's words or ideas. Paraphrasing adds weight to the argument you are presenting. Where possible maintain the intent of the original passage, or if synthesizing the work of several authors use the style indicated above.

For Students with difficulty writing it is suggested that you utilize the Writing Center located in Main Classroom 321. You may submit your work to the plagiarism detection service at www.turnitin.com to ensure the legal and ethical use of other's work. Please contact the Writing Center Director if you need the password and ID number (m.murray@csuohio.edu, extension 6982).

Course Objective:

The purpose of the course is to provide students with scholarly and practical skills. By participating in the course, the student is expected to gain a better understanding of:

- (1) Issues and challenges to urban America
- (2) Public policy and politics relevant to race and ethnicity
- (3) Appreciation of diversity
- (4) Enhanced writing, research, critical thinking, and analytical skills through writing assignments, group discussions, virtual in-class presentation, and exams

Because this course is entirely web-based, issues relative to course readings, discussion responses, written assignments, and the mid-term and final exam will occur on-line via Blackboard. Therefore, it is imperative students' taking the course are familiar with computers and the Internet.

Course Requirements:

Students' are required to meet the following criteria for this course:

- (1) Prepare/submit all written assignments, discussion responses, virtual in-class presentation, mid-term, and final exam under the appropriate tab via Blackboard on time. Late assignments will not be accepted without two week prior approval from the instructor;
- (2) Read all readings assigned for the course;
- (3) Edit written assignments extensively before submission.

This course is entirely web based. This course will not utilize lectures for instruction, therefore requires students' ability to utilize scholarly literature i.e., journals, Internet, etc. to research/collect relevant data/material to complete/submit the writing assignment developed for this course.

Questions regarding the course should be submitted to the instructor via Blackboard e-mail only. Students requiring additional assistance must make an appointment with the instructor. Students should contact the University Help Desk (216) 687-5050 or the Center for E-Learning for issues related to Blackboard.

Writing Across the Curriculum Requirement Criteria:

This course also fulfills the Writing Across the Curriculum (WAC) requirement. The criteria for meeting the WAC requirement are:

1. The course requires students to write between 3,000 and 5,000 words (10-20 pages, double-spaced, in 12-point font, with 1" margins) in writing assignments (which may include drafts).
2. Final versions of at least one assignment should total at least 2,000 words (eight pages).
3. The course teaches students writing-to-learn strategies that foster students' experiences in learning, and writing-to-communicate strategies that foster students' respect of readers' experiences. Planning assignments (e.g. reading logs, pre-writing strategies) and peer reviews will be included in class assignments.
4. Students will be assigned writing complex enough to require substantive revision for most students. Students will be given feedback to assist them in preparing subsequent papers or drafts of papers. This feedback will consist of more than mechanical correction of punctuation and grammar.
5. The course provides instruction in discipline-appropriate forms of texts, arguments, evidence, style, audience, and citation. Students will be required to use the American Psychological Association (APA) style. The CSU Library website lists citation guides including links to the APA style guide:
<http://www.ulib.csuohio.edu/research/vrd/citations.html>;
or go to the APA website, <http://www.apastyle.org/>
6. There will be writing assignments throughout the semester.
7. The course will address the needs of students regarding library competency.
8. In order to receive a C or better in the course, students must write at a satisfactory skill level (C or better). If the student's writing is weak, but shows understanding of the course material, the student may be assigned a D, in which case WAC credit will not be received for the course.

Writing Assignments:

All writing assignments (i.e., concept paper and book reviews only) must be submitted as an attachment using Word 2000 or as a rich text file and not Vista. Papers submitted using any other version of Word will not be graded.

I. Concept Paper

Students' are to submit a minimum of 10 pages (3,000 word) or a maximum of 15 pages (3,500 word) concept paper discussing the history of an issue affecting life in urban American cities, and its impact on African-American's in particular. You may choose from the following ten (8) topics for this assignment.

- (1) No child left behind and its effects on city school districts;
- (2) Welfare-to-Work efforts;
- (3) Government health care programs for the poor;
- (4) Affirmative action;
- (5) Brown vs. Board of Education decision and its effects on city school districts;

Legitimate reference resources include the use of: scholarly journals/articles, books, data cited from databases (i.e., U.S. Census, etc.), and reports (i.e., United States General Accountability Office, etc.). Citations from Internet sources that are merely web pages constructed by individuals airing their personal views are unacceptable sources. However, legitimate websites accessing refereed academic journals/reports (i.e., articles published in The Urban Institute, Journal of Urban Affairs, etc.) are legitimate resources.

Utilization of articles found on www.lydiaspeakeshermind.com is not acceptable for this assignment. One way to determine if a website is acceptable or not is to ask yourself, "If the Internet did not exist, would I be able to find this article in the university library?" Newspaper or magazine articles may be used for this assignment provided they are in-depth articles on the issue, and not just commentaries or editorials. A maximum of two (2) newspaper or magazine articles are acceptable.

II. Book Reviews

Students are to submit (2) two book reviews. The book reviews must contain a minimum of 10 pages or a maximum of 15 pages. Students must select two books from the book review list delineated under the supplemental reading list. The book reviews should summarize the contents of from the book and discuss from your perspective how the material presented in the book relates to African-Americans in urban environments.

Students should adhere to the following guidelines for the book reviews; however, your papers should not read like items on a checklist, but instead should be incorporated into a fluid narrative discussing. The minimal requirements for the book report include:

- (1) Discuss the primary social issue(s) addressed in the book;
- (2) Identify the research question or hypothesis the author presented;
- (3) Indicate the author's thesis or primary argument;
- (4) Identify the segment of the population primarily affected by this issue;
- (5) Indicate the setting or social context within which the issue occurs;
- (6) Discuss the current status of public policy relative to the issue presented in the book;
- (7) Discuss the type of analysis, if applicable, conducted in the study [i.e., quantitative (statistical) or qualitative (interviews)];
- (8) What type of data the author used to support his position;
- (9) Discuss notable quotes and/or tables presented in the book, if applicable;
- (10) The author's conclusions, recommendations, and the policy implications;
- (11) Your critical analysis of the author's work;
- (12) Supporting evidence for your position.

Class Assignments:

I. Weekly Discussion Question Responses

Students are responsible for responding in writing to the assigned weekly discussion questions. Responses for the discussion questions must be between 150 – 200 words in length, and must be submitted under the appropriate weekly discussion tab in Blackboard.

Students' are required to participate in the weekly on-line discussion questions to promote Writing-to-Learn exercises, which are intended to explore fundamental aspects of the African-American experience utilizing discussions question responses designed to promote learning at a deeper level than memorization or recitation. Utilizing Blackboard, students should login every Monday and submit their discussion question responses no later than 8:00 p.m. every week. Students may submit their discussion question responses early if they are reading ahead or anytime prior to the due date/time. Late discussion question responses will not be accepted.

Students' first discussion question response will be due Monday, August 31, 2009.

*All discussion responses must be submitted as text under the discussion tab located under the main course menu found under my Blackboard home page. Students' that fail to submit their weekly discussion entries under the discussion tab will not receive credit. Late discussion responses will not be accepted.

Articles used for the discussion questions are available on Electronic Course Reserve (ECR) at the CSU library and can be accessed at the following link:

http://www.scholar.csuohio.edu/screen/m_course.html. You can search for the articles using the course and section number or by my last name (Slone) and selecting the appropriate course/section number.

II. Virtual In-Class Presentation

Students are required to submit a formal Power Point presentation for the virtual in-class assignment. The Power Point presentation should consist of no more than (10) ten slides and should summarize the information from the topic they selected to explore for their concept paper, to illustrate their knowledge and understanding of the topic. Students must submit their virtual in-class presentation as an attachment under the appropriate tab in Blackboard.

Written Assignment Evaluation:

Evaluation of student papers is based on the following criteria:

Higher Order Concerns

- (1) Focus – The hypothesis or main point of your paper needs to be stated clearly at the beginning of the paper.
- (2) Development – The research i.e., literature, date, etc. utilized to support your hypothesis. More specifically, students' incorporation of quotes, paraphrases, examples, inferences, reasoning, opinions, and forecasts relative to supporting their hypothesis.
- (3) Organization – The organization/structure of the paper. More specifically, is the paper organized so that the paragraphs proceed from one to another in a logical style using appropriate transitions? Is the paper well organized? Did the student adhere to the APA style format suggested for this course?

Lower Order Concerns

- (1) Style – Style can be considered in terms of sentence patterns and diction. Are the sentence patterns varied (preferred) or all the same? Variety in style makes for a far more interesting read. Is the diction appropriate (wording, choice of words) for an upper level college assignment? Is the diction appropriate for the discipline?
- (2) Mechanics – Refers to the punctuation, spelling, and grammar. Students should make sure they proofread their paper prior to submission. Points will be deducted for inappropriate punctuation, improper use of grammar, and misspelled words.

Exam:

Final Exam: The date for the final is Monday, December 7, 2009. The final for the course will be posted on Blackboard under the assessment tab located under the course menu. Students' should complete the final exam on-line under the assessment tab. Grades for the final exam will be posted on Blackboard once the exam is complete. The final will only be available for students' to take from 12:00 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Monday, December 7, 2009 only.

NOTE: No study guide will be provided for the final exam. Students' are permitted to use class materials to complete the final exam. The final exam will consist of a combination of 25 multiple choice/true false questions derived from the textbook readings and articles used for the weekly discussion responses.

Grading:

The following is a breakdown of the letter grades that will be distributed in this course. No grade of "incomplete" will be given under any circumstance.

94 – 100	A
90 - 93	A-
87 – 89	B+
83 – 86	B
80 – 82	B-
77 – 79	C+
70 – 76	C
60 – 69	D
59 – Below	F

FYI: The concept paper, book reviews, weekly discussion question responses, virtual in-class presentation, and final exam add up to a total of 600 possible points for the semester. The grade breakdown listed above is based on the accumulation of the total number of points students' actually received divided by 600, which is the total number of points possible (100 points for each of the six required assignments). Students' must keep in mind the final breakdown of grades is based on the overall spread of scores achieved by the class for the semester. Below is a summary of the grade weight for the six course assignments.

Grade Weight for the Six Course Assignments:

- (1) Concept Paper 100 points
- (2) Book Review #1 100 points
- (3) Book Review #2 100 points
- (4) Ten Weekly Discussion Question Responses 100 points
- (5) Virtual In-Class Presentation 100 points
- (6) Final Exam* 100 points

 Note: The final exam will consist of 25 multiple choice questions; however, the exam is based on a total of 100 possible points. Each question is only worth one point, but the total score (i.e., 25 out of 25 equal 100 points). The final exam will be based on the material presented in the course.

APA Style Tips:

Student papers must include documentation of at least five (5) scholarly (i.e., periodicals, government documents, books, Internet sources, etc.). However, the bases of your paper needs to come from scholarly literature and not solely from the Internet. All of your research statements must be documented in the reference section of your paper.

The APA style utilizes in-text citations that refer to a list of sources. The following are a few examples of the APA style:

In Text Citations:

(1) Direct Quotations

- (A) As Davis (1982) noted,
- (B) As Berry and Smith (1980) indicated,
- (C) In the book, The Case fro the Use of Discretion (2003).

(2) Internet Citations within the Text of your Paper:

(A) In the article “Child Care Implementation,” Dr. Smith indicate... (State of Ohio, 2006).

(B) According to a report by the United States Census... (U.S. Census, 2004).

(2) Summary or Paraphrase: Include the author(s) last name and the date either in a single phrase or in parenthesis at the end of the sentence. For example:

(A) Baumgartner and Kelly (2002) agree that.... (Baumgartner and Kelly, 2002).

Referencing Citations from the Internet in your Reference Section

(1) How to Cite Internet Citations in your Reference Section. (Not to be used in the body of your text. ONLY use in REFERENCE SECTION): Cite material from a web site by giving the web address in parenthesis (<http://historyofclevlen.org>). If you are referring to the entire site, you do not need a bibliography entry. If you are referring to a specific document from the web site, provide a bibliography entry in the list of references. For example:

(A) “Child Care Implementation.” Retrieved January 15, 2009 from Electronic Library Database on the World Wide Web: <http://www.stateofohio.gov>.

Citation Help: For additional help in utilizing APA citations refer to <http://www.apa.org/journals/webref.html> or go to the CUS library home page virtual reference site and click on the drop down list to citation guides (<http://ulib.csuohio.edu/vrd/citations.shtml>).

Where to do Research: Two excellent ways to access scholarly periodic literature is on the CSU library home page. From the CSU home page, refer to:

- (1) Find articles,
- (2) Journals and Subject Portals.

Submission of Assignments:

This class is being taught entirely on-line, therefore it is imperative students manage their time and develop a work plan for the course to ensure you meet deadlines established for the submission of assignments, and exams. Students’ should:

- (1) Prepare and submit all assignments, discussion responses on time utilizing the appropriate tabs located under the course menu found on Blackboard (i.e., assignment, group discussion, etc);
- (2) Send all correspondence/questions to the instructor that are not course assignments via Blackboard e-mail;
- (3) Submit written assignments, discussion question responses, virtual in-class presentation, and exams utilizing the appropriate tabs under the course menu via Blackboard.

- (4) Log on to Blackboard at least once a week to check for changes, updates and/or additional information relative to the class. Students' should pay special attention to the announcements posted for the class.
- (5) Written assignments (i.e., concept paper/book reviews) and virtual in-class presentation must be submitted as an attachment using Word 2000 or rich text file only, to the appropriate assignment tab located on the course menu in Blackboard. Written assignments not submitted, as an attachment to the appropriate assignment tab will not be accepted.

Blackboard Policies:

Please see the course on Blackboard for changes and/or additional information.

Use of Blackboard Technology in your Workplace: For those of you that have permission to do your class work at your place of employment, keep in mind that many employers have safeguards in place that may prevent you from being able to optimize your use of Blackboard.

How to Access Blackboard:

Students are automatically enrolled in Blackboard when they register for the class.

Submitting Group Discussion Responses on Blackboard:

From the course menu in Blackboard, select the discussion tab and type in your group discussion response. Do not submit an attachment for your group discussion response. If students have problems entering their group discussion response, contact the Help Desk. If students are still having a problem, they should notify the instructor before the due date so an alternative submission format can be discussed.

Submitting Written Assignments on Blackboard:

From the course menu in Blackboard, select the assignment tab and follow the directions to attach your assignments under the appropriate tab (i.e., under the assignment tab located on the course menu select appropriate assignment tab i.e., Concept Paper, Book Review, Virtual In-Class Presentation, etc., and attach your paper or presentation). Attaching your papers or virtual presentation under the assignment tab is just like sending an e-mail attachment. If students have problems attaching their assignment, contact the Help Desk. If students are still having a problem, they should notify the instructor before the due date so an alternative submission format can be discussed.

YOU MUST NAME THE FILE WITH YOUR NAME. YOU MUST INCLUDE A TITLE PAGE, AND PUT YOUR LAST NAME, PAGE NUMBER, AND COURSE NUMBER AND COURSE SECTION ON THE PAGES OF YOUR ASSIGNMENTS IN THE FOOTER OR HEADER ALONGSIDE THE PAGE NUMBER.

For example: (page) #, last name, UST 302, Section 1. Points will be deducted if you do not include a title page, number on your pages, include your last name, and course number in the footer of every page.

Late Assignments:

No late assignments will be accepted without at least two-week prior permission of the instructor. The instructor will only grant permission for the submission of late papers based on extreme circumstances. (Last minute requests for the submission of assignments will only be accepted in cases of extreme emergencies). Excuses such as, “I got behind in my other classes, etc.) will not warrant an extension for the submission of late written assignments, discussion question responses, or the submission of the final exam. Students are expected to complete all assignments on time.

A Word of Warning:

Successful completion of an Internet based class requires students to:

- (1) Develop a work plan (schedule) for the semester to meet the demands of the course. Once a work plan is developed, students should adhere to the plan.
- (2) Stay focused.
- (3) Keep in mind the instructor will not give incompletes for the course, so you should submit papers, etc. on time to avoid penalties.
- (4) If there is an issue, notify the instructor immediately.
